About the Club

The Economic Club of New York is a membership organization with Members drawn from the top executive levels of business, industry and finance. Founded in 1907, the Club serves as a major forum for discussion on a wide range of public issues of interest to businesspeople. The Club is nonpolitical, nonpartisan and nonprofit. Its individual Members represent a wide diversity of opinion.

The Club promotes no agenda, and it takes no sides on issues. It exists solely to provide a serious, structured forum in which selected top leaders, from both the U.S. and abroad, can address its Members and their invited guests. Because its speakers have complete freedom to express their views, the Club is described as the leading non-partisan forum in the United States. All views expressed at Club functions are those of the speakers, not of the Club.

Speakers are chosen for distinction and timeliness. Over the years speakers have included heads of government, cabinet ministers, legislators, economists, bankers, business executives, labor leaders, university presidents, governors, judges, generals and admirals, ambassadors and scientists.

Our virtual events, breakfasts, lunches, receptions, and occasional dinners are informative and enriching exchanges with world class and highly influential thought leaders. The program itself is uninterrupted and the event's entire focus is on the Guest of Honor. Programs include a Q&A session, commonly in a fireside chat format to include questions from Members of the Club.

Club programs are open to Members and their guests. Members are encouraged to invite guests, and many find that hosting tables at in-person events provides a unique opportunity for their clients. Club events are typically open to coverage by the media. As part of our Reciprocity Program with the Economic Club of Washington DC and the Economic Club of Chicago, their upcoming events are shared with ECNY Club Members for their consideration to attend on a complimentary basis.

The Centennial Society, available to those in the Club who are elected to membership, includes advanced tiers of giving that reflect our most generous Members. Special benefits of joining the Centennial Society vary by giving level but include recognition in Club materials, priority seating for Members and their guests at in-person events, as well as the ability to bring a guest to the VIP reception, special receptions for Centennial Members, and much more.
